About Us

Pioneer Impex is a prestigious company that supplies a high quality range hospital utensils and medical devices such as Breath Alcohol Analyzer, Hematology Analyzers, Medical Disposable Devices, Polypropylene Vial, and other products. A massive infrastructural base has backed us since our inception in 2007 in Ahmedabad (Gujarat India), which includes various units such as procurement, production, quality control, sales & marketing, and warehousing & packaging. These units are equipped with all of the necessary amenities, allowing us to produce an impeccable range of products. As a manufacturer, we are continuously thriving because of our consistent efforts for innovation and implementation of advanced technology in our manufacturing process.

We work closely with our customers to bring competitive advantages in key areas such as new product development, improved end product functionality, cost reduction and appropriate quality control. Our sales and marketing executives ensure that orders are delivered to clients on time. Procurement agents, production managers, quality controllers, storekeepers, sales and marketing executives, and other professionals collaborate with each other and work as a cohesive unit. To ensure global quality standards in our product line, we have established a quality control unit outfitted with cutting edge testing equipment to test products.

Our Team

We have recruited a highly qualified and talented group of professionals to ensure our growth and progress. Our employees are hired after a thorough evaluation of their professional backgrounds and working abilities. Members are assigned to different units based on their domain expertise. Nonetheless, they work in complete coordination with one another to ensure that organizational activities are completed quickly and efficiently. Furthermore, we organize workshops and training sessions to help them improve their skills and stay aware of the industry trends.

Manufacturing Capabilities

We have state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities within our organization to achieve the highest possible output with the least amount of waste. These facilities include a large manufacturing unit with all of the necessary manufacturing equipment. Aside from that, we own a diverse range of innovative machinery and other equipment required to instill unrivaled quality in our products.
